Foreword

Dear Colleagues,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the 18th Regional MRCOG Part 2 Examination Course in Singapore, where trainees will get to experience a full-scale mock written exam. This year, we are extremely privileged to have two senior RCOG examiners, Mr Toby Fay and Dr Anju Aggarwal, to help facilitate this course.

We urge you to take this opportunity to learn the proper techniques to help you pass your MRCOG Part 2 written exam. Our esteemed RCOG UK examiners will be giving lectures and conducting interactive EMQs and SBAs sessions. This gives you the opportunity to not only pick up exam tips and techniques from them, but also the chance to clarify any doubts you may have before your examination.

Immediately following this course, RCOG and COGS will be co-organizing the MRCOG Final Preparation: Part 3 Clinical Skills Course on 2nd and 3rd December 2017 in Singapore at the same location, conducted by Mr Toby Fay, Dr Jyotsna Acharya and Dr Anju Aggarwal from the RCOG. Please refer to the brochure on the next page for more information.

We look forward to meeting you at the course!

MRCOG Final Preparation: Part 3 Clinical Skills Course

Date: Saturday 2 – Sunday 3 December 2017

Venue: KK Women's and Children's Hospital, Singapore

Overview

This Part 3 Clinical Skills Course will give delegates a unique opportunity to practise and rehearse the clinical tasks set down in the new MRCOG Part 3 oral examination. There will be two different circuits, each with 14 active stations where you will receive individual feedback after each of the tasks from the examiners, some of which will include local role players and lay examiners.

There will also be workshop-based sessions incorporating communication skills with patients and colleagues, issues of patient safety, applied clinical knowledge and information gathering using different task materials to increase the delegate's exposure to more questions. Videos of different tasks types will be presented and discussed. Exposure to these activities will help delegates reflect on individual strengths and identify areas for improvement and further practice.

Places on this course are strictly limited to 28 and will be allocated on a 'first-come-first-serve' basis.

Learning objectives

- To describe the structure and format of the MRCOG Part 3 examination
- To reproduce the components parts of the blueprint matrix of the MRCOG Part 3
- To describe the basic structure of the examiner marking system
- To relate the five clinical skills domains to clinical situations from the 14 modules of the MRCOG Part 3 Syllabus at an ST5 level of competence
- To identify personal strengths and weaknesses in the clinical skills domains exposed during the course, identify good and unsatisfactory performances, and to reflect on how to improve them for future clinical practice and prior to the examination

Who should attend?

- Candidates who plan to sit for the MRCOG Part 3 Examination in May/November 2018
